

IDEAL PROGRAM COURSE SYLLABUS

Dear Student,

Please read the following course syllabus carefully, especially the course dates, times and location. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to communicate with the IDEAL office, your academic advisor, or the instructor.

The IDEAL degree-completion program is designed with the adult learner in mind. Adult learners approach learning with specific goals, want to be able to directly apply new learning to their work and personal lives, and tend to learn best when the coursework is problem-centered so that they are actively engaged in the learning process. In addition, adults bring rich and varied experience to the classroom, which becomes a valuable learning resource for other students.

The IDEAL Program assumes joint responsibility in the learning process. The activities and assignments in our classes build on the shared experience of all learners in each class. This is why each student's preparation, participation and interaction in class activities and discussions are critical to the success of each course. The accelerated format of each course requires a significant amount of time outside the classroom to prepare for and complete the course assignments. This varies between students and courses; however, students typically spend a minimum of ten-twelve hours per week on course material.

To participate in the IDEAL Program, it is expected that you will do the following:

1. Attend every class session. Be on time.
2. Obtain the required course materials prior to the first class session.
3. Complete the first assignment prior to the first class session and all subsequent assignments to the best of your ability.
4. Participate in the class discussions and demonstrate respect and consideration to the instructor and other students when they express themselves in discussion.

If you cannot perform these four expectations, it is recommended that you drop the course.

Missing one class session will drop the final grade by one letter grade (for example if the student earned a grade of "B" in the course, the final grade would be a "C"). If a student misses two or more classes a grade of F will be entered as their final grade.

Cheating and Plagiarism

It is the student's responsibility to become familiar with and adhere to the standards set forth in the policies on cheating and plagiarism as defined in Chapters 2 and 5 of the Key to UB <http://www.bridgeport.edu/pages/2623.asp> or the appropriate graduate program handbook

E-mail correspondence

It is imperative that you check your UB e-mail on a regular basis. All written correspondence, to include IDEAL and the University will be sent to you through his e-mail. The University can no longer correspond to your personal e-mail account(s).

Ethics Statement of Confidentiality

An integral component of an IDEAL course is student and faculty expression of personal experiences for the purpose of facilitating coursework. Students enrolled in the program are expected to honor confidentiality as it pertains to student disclosure. Shared information, comments, or opinions expressed by another student or the faculty member during the course of classroom discussion should never be used in a manner which is intended to humiliate, embarrass, harass, damage, or otherwise injure other students in their personal, public, or business lives. In addition, confidentiality must be upheld by not disclosing any information that would identify any particular individual.

SOC 102 ID2SOCIOLOGY OF SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Fall 2013

Thursdays 8/29/2013 – 9/26/2013

6:00-10:00 PM

Bridgeport Campus

Instructor: Charles Phillips PhD

Email: cphillip@bridgeport.edu

1. Course Description

This course is an analysis of major contemporary social problems and existing methods for dealing with these problems. What is a social problem? How does it differ from a personal problem? We will critically examine troubled institutions, inequality, conformity, deviance, and the problems of a changing world from the “functionalist,” “conflict,” and “interactionist” perspectives.

3. Required textbook

Leon-Guerrero, Anna. (2013). Social Problems: Community, Policy, and Social Action. 4th Edition. Thousand Oaks, CA: Pine Forge Press.

ISBN: 9781452205434

Learning Outcomes for the course:

Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to:

- A) Understand the basic overarching sociological problems involving culture, socialization, and stratification.
- B) Explain how society functions as a dynamic process in which social structure, institutions, organizations, formal and informal groups are created, maintained and sustained through social interactions.
- C) Analyze how class, race, and gender impact group and have an affect on social problems.
- D) Identify theoretical frameworks for analyzing social problems and policies, and critical empirical questions about society and human behavior.

To be completed prior to first class session.

1. Read Leon-Guerrero (2009) Chapters 1-6
2. Be prepared for a quiz.
3. Be prepared to answer the discussion questions in class. No written assignment needs to be turned in prior to class. However, it may be helpful to have notes on the main points of each of the discussion questions for the quiz. You will be allowed to use your notes but not the textbook for the quiz.

Schedule with assignments for the remainder will be given in the first class session.

Expectations:

1. Discussion and questions are encouraged. A free flow of ideas is essential to a college education. No student should hesitate to express him/herself for fear of being wrong, etc. All ideas are valuable, and all contributions are welcome.
2. Respect is an essential element of academic discussion and interaction: between students and between instructor and students. Prejudice, resentment and other hostilities are not a part of academic behavior. Disagreements will be mediated with the help of the instructor. Agreeing to disagree is an acceptable academic resolution.
3. Class attendance is expected and absences will affect your final grade. Leaving the class early will also be noted and could affect your final grade. If for some reason legitimate or not - you miss a deadline, or are continuously absent from class but intend to continue, please notify the instructor as soon as possible. Students absent for whatever reason are responsible for all material, including announcements that they missed.
4. Anyone caught cheating on a test/assignment will receive a grade of zero for that assignment. Anyone guilty of plagiarism will receive a zero on that assignment. Plagiarism is copying someone else's writing and claiming that it is your own. This includes ANY AND ALL material from the Internet, papers of other students, material from the text or any other book.
5. Late papers or assignments will be docked 10% per diem.

Research and Reflection Evaluation RUBRIC

Evaluating reflection journals is as challenging as evaluating course work performed in the traditional class setting. Other than for an easily quantifiable quiz, it is difficult to offer simple and objective evaluation criteria. What follows is a rubric that has proven to be a useful guide in evaluating your reflection and research papers. The instructor will be using the following grading scale:

1. Discussion entries and reflective papers which meet the demands of the assignment will be graded with a B+ or B. These assignments will include at least the following:

- Each entry is posted and/or paper is received on time (a hard copy is brought to class each week).
- Opinions, comments, and observations are offered in depth (avoid brief comments in telegraphic style; no "how r u, gr8" for how are you, great"). This does not mean that everything you write should be longggggg.
- Journal entries and reflection assertions on your research must relate clearly and directly to the readings (including "direct quotes" from the assigned readings to support your position).
- Your journal entries and research papers must indicate an understanding of the issues.
- Generally, your reflection journal should seek to further the discussion on key issues.

2. Journal entries and reflective papers which go beyond the demands of the assignment will be graded with an A or A-. These assignments will include all of the requirements for a B or B+ above. In addition, A or A- entries and papers will:

- Show deeper analytical or inferential thinking, demonstrating insightful understandings.
- Offer comments that are particularly perceptive, while they are also supported with direct quotes from the readings.
- Provide strong, precise, and thoughtfully selected support for assertions.
- Synthesize and evaluate experiences related to course topics and/or issues of importance as described in our course objectives.
- Propose changes and relate material to person experience demonstrating an ability to apply the material to propose solutions and/or advocate for unheard voices related to social inequities and justice issues.
- Pose good questions (i.e., questions that further discussion and reflection).
- Link to topics/issues from earlier readings [from this course and/or other courses] and current readings/web resources.

3. Journal entries and reflective papers which do not meet the demands of the assignment will be graded with a B- C+, C, or D. Although it is NOT expected that these types of assignments will be created, it is likely that they would:

- Arrive late or contain insufficient details, or
- Not be clear or understandable, or
- Not use direct quotes from the assigned readings or not relate to these readings or other Internet resources in an appropriate and/or thoughtful way [or misrepresent them], or
- Contain only detailed description of local experiences with no evidence of reflection or synthesis, or
- Contain only opinion, with no descriptive details or supporting quotes from theory or research.

Please note that it is important to check your work for spelling and grammatical correctness.

(Revised and adapted from J. Hauer by C. Phillips 3/7/04)

Overall Evaluation

Percentage-wise, each assignment will count as announced in the syllabus (e.g., 25% of the final grade). Each assignment, including the quiz, will be given a numerical grade (see below). At the end of the course, a letter grade will be given based on the total points for all the assignments.

Grading Scale

% of Points Earned	Letter Grade	% of Points Earned	Letter Grade
100-94	A	76-74	C
93-90	A-	73-70	C-
89-87	B+	69-67	D+
86-84	B	66-64	D
83-80	B-	63-60	D-
79-77	C+	Below 60	F

Course Performance and Grading Criteria

In general, the end of course performance criteria or expectation for each letter grade can be defined as follows:

Grade	Requirements & Performance Criteria
A	Students achieving this level will have demonstrated the following:
	1. Accurate and sophisticated understanding of readings and issues with ability to do more than repeat what the text says or what was said in class, such as the ability to infer additional important information from sources.

	2. Critical stance toward opinions communicated in class or in the readings and the ability to express their own views articulately and defends them well.
	3. Originality of thought in expressing the critical stance, in drawing out additional implications from the readings and class discussions, and in finding personal meaning in the readings and issues discussed.
	4. Clear expression of ideas, with papers containing very few grammatical or stylistic weaknesses.
	5. All assignments completed and submitted within the time allowed.
B	Students achieving this level will have demonstrated the following:
	1. All of the "A" work, but with less accomplishment.
	2. Accurate understanding of readings and issues, with the ability to do more than repeat the text.
	3. A critical stance, with some effort, not always successful, to defend that stance.
	4. Some attempt to find personal meaning, with at least hints of originality and creativity of thought.
	5. Very clear expression of thoughts and ideas.

C	Students achieving this level will have demonstrated the following:
	1. A generally accurate grasp of the readings and issues, but with some inaccuracy; lack of sophistication understanding, such as the ability to infer from sources.
	2. Some attempt to take a critical stance, but with little effort or success in defending that stance.
	3. Some attempt to find personal meaning.
	4. Sufficient clarity of expression to communicate ideas, but with stylistic or grammatical weaknesses, which create difficulties.
D	Students achieving this level will have demonstrated the following:
	1. Genuine efforts to understand, with some demonstrated understanding of readings and issues, but with serious deficiencies.
	2. Generally lacking in critical stance or in a defense of that stance.
	3. Lack of understanding or an attempt to find personal meaning.
F	Simply an unsatisfactory effort in key respects, especially in understanding or clarity of expression.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Attendance Policy

Classroom attendance is an integral part of the academic experience; therefore, students are expected to attend all class sessions. If an absence is unavoidable, the student, prior to class, should advise the instructor. Arrangements should be made at that time for additional assignments if appropriate. It is also expected that students arrive on time and not leave until the class is dismissed. Tardiness will result in a reduced grade for the course. If you cannot attend every class session you should consider dropping the course.

IMPORTANT:

- Missing one class session will drop the final grade by one letter grade (for example if the student earned a grade of “B” in the course, the final grade would be a “C”).
- Missing two or more class sessions will be cause for a failing grade.

Incomplete grade

An incomplete may be given, at the discretion of the instructor, to those students who fail to complete assignments due the last day of your course. These would include absence from a final examination or inability to complete terminal assignments (papers, presentations) due to illness, employment conflicts, etc.

Incompletes will not be given to a student who fails to complete any assignment during the term. At the discretion of the instructor, these assignments could be completed no later than the last scheduled day of your class.

Drop Procedures

To drop a course, you must complete and submit a Schedule Change Request Form. The form can be accessed at the following web page:

<http://www.bridgeport.edu/pages/2595.asp>

Starting Fall 2012

- Drop prior to the second class session.....75% Tuition Refund
- Drop prior to the third class session.....50% Tuition Refund
- Drop after the third class session.....0% Tuition Refund

*Please note students will not be automatically dropped for missing the first class. Missing one class session will drop the final grade by one letter grade. If you have to miss the first class, or the first week of class for online classes, you must contact your instructor in writing before or after the first class/first week. However, a grade reduction will apply.

Please print and complete the form and fax the form to the IDEAL Office: 203-576-4537. Prior to dropping a course, the student should contact their IDEAL Academic Advisor to understand the implications to financial aid and/or degree plan progress.

Cell Phones

Cell phones must be turned off while in the classroom. A cell phone call is disruptive and disrespectful to the other students in the class.

Academic Dishonesty

We are committed to intellectual integrity in our academic pursuits; therefore, the IDEAL program prohibits all forms of academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty is normally defined as, but not limited to, the following two categories:

Cheating – Using inappropriate sources of information in an assignment or on a test. The following are examples of cheating taken from real student experiences:

Case #1: A student is enrolled in an introductory computer-programming course. He has co-workers who program in the same language as his final project. As the end of the term approaches, he wonders how he will find the time to get the project finished, and asks one of his co-workers for help. His co-worker hands him a disk with a complete program similar to the kind required for the course project. The student makes minor modifications to the program, and submits it under his own name.

Case #2: A student enrolled in a religious studies course has never taken a humanities or history course, and is unsure about how to structure a research paper. She is doing research on the World Wide Web, and comes across a paper written by a student from another university. Using her computer mouse, she copies and pastes the document into her word processor. She goes to great lengths to re-word the paper in her own style, but essentially leaves the content and organization the same.

Plagiarism – Intentional as well as unintentional failure to acknowledge sources as well as the use of commercially available so-called “research papers” without full recognition of the source. Presenting as one’s own, the ideas, words, or products of another. The following are examples of plagiarism taken from real student experiences:

Case #3: A student is conducting research for a Civil War research paper. He has reviewed work on the Internet as well as in the library. Finding helpful information, he has summarized his findings without citing his sources. He believes that minor paraphrasing is all that is necessary.

Case #4: A student is writing a paper that requires her to address specific topics and problems in the assigned course textbook. She takes the information directly from the textbook with slight modification, without giving any citation. She thinks that since it is the course textbook, she doesn’t have to use quotations or citations.

Academic dishonesty applies to all courses, assignments or exams completed by students and submitted as their own original work, whether in person or by electronic means. The University does not tolerate cheating in any form. It is a serious breach of conduct with serious consequences. Instructors have the right to determine the appropriate penalty for academic dishonesty in their own classes; generally, however, such acts will result in a failing grade for the assignment and/or the course. The penalty for subsequent acts of academic dishonesty may include expulsion.

More information on how to recognize plagiarism can be found at this site:
http://www.indiana.edu/~istd/plagiarism_test.html
